

Haven't heard regular radio in my home since I discovered the XM system.
Haven't missed the information on prescription drugs, ocean voyages, political infighting, hair products, sex enhancers, et al.
I certainly wouldn't appreciate some organization censoring what I feel is a good service and what I'm willing to pay for.